

To whom it may concern

31st January 2019

Dear Sirs

Vincent Lefoulon

We can confirm that above named person worked with Simudyne Limited (“the Company”) as a Data Scientist from March 2018 to January 2019. His role was to develop statistical tools and visualisations to analyse and validate simulation models.

He showed great ability to work independently in a fast-moving environment with a proactive behaviour. He was able to dig into the academic research, to extract valuable information and to communicate to the rest of the company. He demonstrated the ability to work within a team, to ask appropriate questions and to provide relevant feedback. He delivered a well-documented and tested software with rigorous engineering practices.

He expressed great enthusiasm and curiosity at work and managed to efficiently get started within an English-speaking team.

Yours faithfully

For and on behalf of
Simudyne Limited
